Recommendation of Wm Goodloe as Assistant Judge Madison

The importance of an intelligent and upright judiciary has at all times been viewed as the surest preservative of the rights and liberties of the people and as the safest guard against tyranny and oppression. Convinced of the correctness of these positions the lover of his country looks with anxious solicitude to this high and important tribunal whenever a change, however inconsiderable, is about to take place.

The resignation of one of the assistant Judges of the Madison circuit court has excited in us, (the under signed citizens of Madison) feelings of interest and concern in the recommen=dation of an individual whose qualities and qualifica=tions might enable him to discharge the duties of that high and responsible station. Thus influenced we represent William Goodloe Esqr. as one whose respectability of character and unblemished deportment would render him respectable and dignified as a Judge, we therefore wish to our representatives to use their influence in effecting his appoint=ment.—
