Lancaster, 10. August 1813.

Dear Sir!

Presuming the appointments of Surgeons, to the Volunteer corps which is about to be raised in this State, will be made by you, I have taken the liberty of naming Dan'l. Robert M'Connel, as a gentleman whose unassuming genteel deportment, and whose intelligence, ability, and zeal for the welfare of our country, justly qualify him, for such an appointment. Dan'l. M'Connel, is a young man who has been practicing Pharmacy perhaps about one year, he is of an amiable disposition, and has Volunteered his services as a Soldier on the intended expedition, and should he meet with the appointment, it no doubt would be to him very gratifying. I am Sir with sentiments of respect to the Command of a Regt. I would with chearfulness enter the service of my Country for the present Campaign, but as I am an entire stranger to you it would be necessary for you to be acquainted with my Character & standing, which I hope upon an investigation will no doubt meet your approbation
