Pendleton County Court.

In Re

Application of Harriet I. Williams, for Confederate Widow's Pension.

A. E. Howe and Wesley M. Rardin, both of Butler, Pendleton County, Kentucky, being duly sworn stated that they have known the applicant Harriet I. Williams for more than twenty years; that she is now and has been continuously during all of that time a resident of this County and State, and up to the time of the death of her husband, John T Williams, they lived together as husband and wife, and since his death, she has lived in Butler, Ky.; that she has no income except such as she may earn; that she is about seventy-one years of age and she can earn but little, not enough to support herself; that she owns no property of any kind except about ten acres of land with house hereon, and a small amount of personal property, all of the same being worth $600.00; that she resides thereon with her five children, and that the combined income of this applicant from all sources is not over One Hundred Dollars per year.

From the above statements and my own knowledge of the facts, I find that said Harriet I. Williams is entitled to the benefits of an Act granting widow's of disabled and indigent Confederate Soldiers a pension; and I recommend that she be granted a pension thereunder, all necessary steps first being complied with as directed by law.
