MADISON COUNTY COURT.

December Term, December 4, 1916.

Court Met; Honorable J. G. Baxter, Judge Presiding.

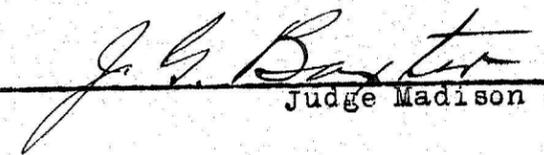

In the matter of a Confederate Pension of Nancy Perkins, widow of Meredith Perkins, deceased:

Now comes Morgan Taylor of Richmond, Kentucky and O. W. Cosby, R.F.D. 4 Richmond Kentucky, who after being duly sworn, state that they know Nancy Jane Perkins, the wife of Meredith Perkins, deceased, and that she is now a resident of Madison County Kentucky and has been an actual boni fide resident of this State and County continuously since prior to Jan. 1, 1907, and that she is unable to earn a support by manual labor or by reason of her knowledge in any art or skill or profession, trade or craft; that she has no property of any kind other than real estate valued at $200.00 and has no income and that she has no support suitably provided for or secured by reason of a contract or agreement for a valuable consideration with a person able to provide such support.

That the witnesses hereto, Van B. Benton, J. M. Haden, and Schuyler Taylor are reputable persons and entitled to credit.

WHEREFORE it is the opinion of this Court so far as it is necessary for this Court to express an opinion that the said Nancy Jane Perkins is entitled to a pension under an act of the Kentucky General Assembly approved March 11, 1912, and amendments thereto.

Given under my hand as Judge of the Madison County Court this Dec. 11, 1916.
